

Brighten Up

"Brighten Up" time is here—the time to clean up about the house, renovate, and make the old things look neat and clean again. We can help you in the work with our line of SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINTS AND VARNISHES.

It is really surprising what a little paint or varnish will do toward brightening up dingy surroundings. Take The S-W. Family Paint, for instance. This is a linseed oil paint specially prepared for home decorating and painting. With it any one can renew the appearance of a hundred little things that now look worn and old. It dries with a good gloss and will stand scrubbing with soap and water. Comes in 26 attractive shades.

The S-W. Floorlac is another splendid household brightener. It is a stain and varnish combined and can be used on old or new woods equally well. Imitates the natural woods and gives a most pleasing effect.

These offer a few hints for you. Come in and have a "Brighten Up" talk with us and learn more about how we can help you in your Fall cleaning. Our line has a paint or varnish for every purpose.

Remember, we sell

THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PRODUCTS

FARMERS UNION BRANCH

- Some of the precautions we take in producing "Quality" Milk.
1. Our herd is tuberculin tested and the animals are kept in a healthy condition.
 2. We keep the hind quarters and udders of our cows clipped, thus eliminating the hair from the milk.
 3. The milker wears a clean white suit when milking and handling the milk.
 4. The cows are thoroughly brushed and the udders washed before each milking.
 5. We use the Gurler Sanitary Milking pail, thus doing away with any dirt that might "get past" our other precautions.
 6. The milk is bottled in sterilized bottles and delivered in a closed wagon.

ORANGE GROVE FARM

F. O. & K. U. BOHNETT, Lessees

"Quality Products"

Phone Campbell 22F4

A Bank For The Whole Family

EVERY member of your family should take advantage of our specialized service. The head of the house can concentrate all his banking here to his best interest—business account, personal checking account, loans, bonds, investments, etc. His wife can have her own individual account or help to economize by means of an account particularly for the household. Each child can have his own savings account, and receive instruction in the ways of banking. To all we extend helpful counsel and courteous service. We want you to know the benefits of family banking.

Make Our Bank Your Bank.

The Bank of Campbell

CAMPBELL, CAL

Panama Pacific Exposition STATIONERY

The Latest in "Quality Goods"

Smith's Stationery Store

Josef Halamicsek

Teacher of Piano, Violin, Organ and Harmony. Private and Class lessons. For information and rates of tuition. Phone: Campbell 18F12. Studio: B. O. Curry Building. Residence: Campbell, Santa Clara and Los Gatos road cor. Parr ave. Phone Campbell 18F12.

For Sale

Ripe, pickled olives for sale. Call at H. T. Chase ranch, Casey Road, between Union Avenue and Los Gatos road.

Eyestrain

Makes Eyework An Injury Corrected

Makes Eyework Easy

My Services

Make Correct Glasses A Certainty

At Dr. Merrill's Office, Monday, May 10.

W. E. Wyett, Optometrist.

40-41 Ryland Block, San Jose Phone 1899

Local and Personal

"The Quality Shop" that's us, KING'S. Miss Edna Beardsley entertained her class of young pupils last week.

The E. Hancock family will spend next week at the Jewel City sight-seeing.

See that fine assortment of Waterman fountain pens at Smith's Stationery Store.

Mrs. Amanda Harris returned last week from a visit with relatives in East San Jose.

The regular election of Campbell Fire Commissioners will be held Monday afternoon.

Sibyl Sims entertained a party of her schoolmates Saturday as her eighth birthday celebration.

Percy Cochrane went to Westwood this week to take a position with the Walker Lumber Co.

Geo. S. Robson and family are spending the week at Camp de Campbell while seeing the Exposition sights.

Mr. D. W. Walker, cashier of Buckley Bank, of Buckley, Michigan, was the guest of J. W. Brown, Tuesday.

The Sunday-School Classes of Miss Ruth Cowies, Raymond Cowles and Mrs. Atkinson went to Albright's Hill on a picnic Saturday.

Will Spiegle and Ross Carey left Saturday for Brawley this state where they will make cantaloupe crates, simply by the thousands.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sutter left Tuesday evening for San Diego where they will take in the fair while visiting with Mrs. Sutter's brother, Chas. Willett.

Stephen Merrill, veteran fireman, celebrated his fifth anniversary Saturday afternoon in an "at home" party held for a number of his "old time" friends.

W. S. Templeton shipped 36 of his pure bred Cornish Game chickens to Pendleton, N. J., last week. The popularity of this strain of fowls is steadily increasing.

Mrs. Call left last week for Mokelumne Hill for a two weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. Blais. Esther is staying with her aunt, Mrs. W. S. Shelley during her grandma's absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pannell of Roseville arrived Saturday for several days' visit with Mr. Pannell's aunt, Mrs. Maria Poor, and cousins, Mrs. Claud Gard and Mrs. W. C. Bohnett.

Roy G. Archibald has purchased the Ralston Alison residence on North Second street. Mr. Alison expects soon to begin the building of a new home a short distance farther north on the same street.

The Boston Symphony Orchestra, one of the best in the world, will give twelve concerts in Festival Hall at the Exposition, May 14 to 26. Reduced railroad round trip rates will be given for those visiting the fair and concerts.

Thomas B. Bridges, president of Healds Business College, of Oakland, his wife, sister and brother-in-law, drove down in their Overland Saturday and spent Sunday with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Zion on Central avenue.

A pleasant farewell surprise was given Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jones at the home of Mr. Geo. Parso, Monday evening, when a small party of friends stepped in for a few hours chat and to wish them a pleasant trip back to Minnesota. Light refreshments were served.

F. M. Smith, bookkeeper of the Kalamazoo County State Bank at Schoolcraft, Michigan, arrived Monday to spend the week with the J. F. Duncan family. Mr. Smith is the father of Walter, who made his home here until recently when he went to Imperial to assist in a bank. Mr. Smith is touring the west and taking in the sights at the Fairs.

Miss Agnes Howe will speak to the Home and School Club, Tuesday, May 4th, at the Grammar School, on "Consolidation of Rural Schools." Every one is cordially invited to be present, as the question of the union of the 7th and 8th grades of the districts supporting the C. U. H. S. is being considered. Patrons of these districts are especially invited.

Floral Party

The lady teachers of the Grammar and High School and a few other young ladies were guests of Mrs. H. C. Smith, Saturday afternoon.

The affair was in the nature of a floral party, having been planned originally for this Saturday, May Day. The color scheme was pink, which was carried out in the decorations, refreshments and prizes.

In supplying the names of flowers in a "Floral Love Story," Miss Sykes had the greatest number, and in rapid answers to a "Planting Game," Mrs. Alison won.

Reading of definitions from the "Foolish Dictionary," and music completed the afternoon.

Twentieth Anniversary Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Beal were given a complete surprise at their home on Sunny Oaks avenue Thursday evening.

About 40 of their jolly neighbors, remembering that their twentieth wedding anniversary fell on April 22nd, arranged to help celebrate the occasion by inviting themselves to the party, swooping in on them shortly after dark.

Baskets of good things had been prepared by the guests and brought along to add to the merry time.

A pretty china coffee set was presented the bride and groom as a token of the high esteem in which they are held.

One of the features of the evening was a second wedding of the happy couple. The bride carried a beautiful bouquet of foxtail grass. Their honeymoon trip is being kept a secret.

Games and music were enjoyed, Mrs. Scholz, Robert Scholz and Forrest Castle comprising the orchestra.

A most enjoyable time was passed and a duplicate of it may be expected at another house later.

High School Notes

One of the best ball games of the season was played on the local grounds Saturday afternoon. This was the local High's last league game and they gave a good exhibition against the Montezuma boys whose particular weak spot was on the mound. Ed. Pierce did the twisting for the Highs and struck out a number of their best hitters. The support given him was much better than at most of the previous games, and at times was like clock-work. The usual bad inning did not drop and the score was kept down, resulting in a final score of 8 to 4 in favor of our boys.

May Day, Saturday, tomorrow, May 1st, is the big re-union day at the Campbell High School athletic field.

The various tennis, basket ball and baseball stars of the I. A. U. league will gather here to do battle for team and single contests and a large following is expected to accompany them.

The local school boosters are planning to arrange tables for the basket lunches and will furnish hot chocolate for the visitors.

Next Saturday a field meet will be held at Campbell. Last year the students went in an auto truck and made a picnic of the affair. Such an enjoyable time was had that they contemplate doing the same again this year.—Santa Clara Journal.

Coast Briefs

Jacob Eberhard, resident of Santa Clara since 1865 and owner of Eberhard Tanning Co. died at his home Saturday.

Santa Cruz County is made defendant in a $15,000 damage suit brought by Lloyd Boyea. Boyea alleges that he received injuries from electric wires causing paralysis for life.

Some weak minded fellow stole a Ford auto at Hollister last week. If he is found, his sentence will be, Agnews, probably.

Flower Shows are quite the order of the day now with the valley one large rose garden. Morgan Hill and Gilroy have just finished their beautiful displays and Los Gatos will show off Saturday.

Mountain View does the "Clean-up" act all next week and then Sunnyvale will get busy with the duster the following week. Many of our good town-people have been doing that little thing for several weeks, but a little co-operation will do greater things.

The only known survivor of the 400 men who drove stages over the overland route in the early western days, E. B. Daingerfield, yesterday celebrated his 87th birthday at his home in Pacific Grove, where he has resided since 1890. Daingerfield came to El Dorado county in 1850 from Winchester, Va., his birthplace, and resided in Placerville for 19 years. He was editor of the Amador Ledger for three years and was at one time mail clerk in the mountain villages.

In addition to these experiences the Pacific Grove man has been postmaster at Gilroy and in Pacific Grove and was for a time in the employ of the railroad. He is enjoying good health.—Monterey Cypress.

At Rest

The funeral services of the late Mrs. Pauline Trevor were held Saturday, interment being at Rose Lawn.

Mrs. Trevor was born at Galveston, Texas, being 49 years old at her death. She is survived by her husband, A. Trevor and son, Lyle, and a half-sister, Mrs. Lillian High.

A New Kind Of Broom

About two months ago we ordered a trial lot of Queen City Brush Brooms. Two of these brooms have seen daily service in sweeping the store. There's nothing gentle about the way we use a broom, and as these have given us good service they ought to do as well for our customers.

Queen City Brush Brooms have some good points over common brooms that you may appreciate: They are very light, about 1 3/4 pounds; the sweeping width is nearly 14 inches as against 10 in. for the ordinary broom; they are better for rugs or carpets because greater pressure can be applied; water does not injure them; they will out-wear three or four of the older style and are therefore cheaper.

The price is 75c. Come and see them.

BLAINE'S

C. H. WHITMAN

Hardware Plumbing

Surface Irrigation Pipe

Building Paper

Poultry Netting

Wedgewood Stoves and Ranges

Ready Mixed Paints & Oils, Glass etc.

Campbell

Phone 11J

JUST THINK

16 Cans of Peaches for $1.00

You had better act quickly if you want any of these

GEO. E. HYDE & CO. Phone 34J

Something New

We have just Received a New Line of Toilet Goods, Cold Creams, Talcum Powders and Face Powder. Come in and Look them over and See how You Like them.

BEALL the Druggist

Lumber Lumber

ALL KINDS at the right PRICES

Campbell Lumber Co.

Phone 131

Agents for—

Mt. Diablo Cement

REDWOOD TANKS

All ready to set up, direct from S. F. mills to our yard. Few days notice.

Small orders receive the same attention as large ones.

We are anxious to serve and TO PLEASE.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED MILL WORK OF ALL KINDS.

Conklin's self-fillers write right. See them at Smith's.

Scotch Grey Highland Linen is the latest in stationery. C. SMITH.

See those dandy Conklin pens at Smith's Stationery Store. Smith Sells Stationery.

Trade at the

Campbell Market

Campbell California

OUR MEATS ARE GOOD

A. S. Gilson, Prop.

BREAD

Save Money by Buying Tickets

6 Loaves 25c

Phone your orders to phone 37 Campbell Bakery

FINALLY GOT HIS INTERVIEW

Death of James Creelman Recalls Remarkable Exploit of Newspaper Man.

James Creelman's death in Germany while still in the prime of life recalls an exploit of which any newspaper reporter might be proud, observes the Wall Street Journal. He was in London at the time of the Baring crisis in 1890, and performed the unheard-of feat of securing for the New York Herald an exclusive interview with the governor of the Bank of England.

It is a matter of history how the governor, the right Hon. William H. Lidderdale, handled that crisis. He lived to see the Barings successfully liquidated and stronger than ever, with the financial situation in Argentina restored, the £3,000,000 gold which he borrowed by means of acceptances from the Bank of France returned in due course with the seals of the packages unbroken. The London market was tidied over a desperate emergency with the minimum of disturbance, although there were some forty failures in the stock exchange.

Lidderdale died not long ago, leaving an estate valued at only £2,000. He was a strong man and an honest one. But the idea of interviewing him was so remote that only an irreverent American would have thought of it. Creelman had no pass key or letters of introduction. He simply went to the Bank of England, and starting with the astonishing "beadle," worked his way up. He was sent from department to department, to the secret amusement of various heads, until he actually found himself in the presence of the governor.

But the joke failed to explode. Lidderdale was a long-headed Scotchman, much too intelligent not to see the value of publicity at such a time. He was no slave to precedent. He gave Creelman an excellent interview of a frank and reassuring character, which was published in the following Sunday's New York Herald. It was a great scoop; and the London papers spent money frantically on cable toll getting facts on their own situation from New York for their Monday morning issue.

A precedent was set, and since that time English financiers have been more approachable. It may be said also that publicity there, as in Wall Street, has done much to clean up admitted evils, and to set honest finance right with public opinion. The story is well worth recalling, for it has an obvious moral which should never be forgotten.

New Telegraph Code.

A new form of code chart for simplifying the teaching of the Continental telegraph code has been evolved by a Chicago inventor. In place of the usual method of representing the different telegraphic equivalents for letters and figures in the form of dots and dashes, the characters are indicated by small and large letters or figures; the former representing the dots and the latter the dashes. For instance, the letter "A" is represented as "a A," meaning dot dash. The letter "B" is shown as "B bbb" or dash dot dot dot. Thus, by this simple method, the inventor has eliminated the great confusion arising from the dash-dot representations of the various characters. The letters and figures are fixed in the memory of the student as large and small characters instead of in the form of a complicated mass of letters, figures and combinations of dots and dashes. It is stated that this chart has greatly simplified the learning of the code.

New Subterranean Fauna.

Deep mines present conditions likely to evolve a new subterranean fauna from animals accidentally imprisoned and having sufficient endurance to survive the change. At a depth of 750 feet in a mine of the Midlothian Coalfield, Scotland, Dr. James Ritchie has found 13 animal forms, and he concludes that many others may be carried into deep underground workings. These animals were away from any ventilating shaft reaching the surface, the main shaft being a quarter of a mile distant. They are supposed to have been introduced mostly on the props of Norwegian fir and with the horse fodder, but some may have been drawn in by the suction of the ventilating fans. The species noted were the common mouse, the brown rat, the house sparrow, the great slug, a small spider, two beetles, two flies, the springtail or pit flea, two earthworms and a mycetozoon on the pit props.

Sooths Tooth; Fires Bed.

John Wolf, a rural mail carrier of Ebensburg, Pa., has demonstrated that an electric light bulb will cure a toothache and then some. Wolf was walking the floor with a toothache of the jumping kind, when the bright idea struck him. Wrapping a towel around an electric light bulb attached to a long cord, he got into bed, pressing the bulb against the aching molar as a warming pad. The device worked magically. The suffering stopped and wolf fell asleep.

Shortly after midnight, the mail carrier dreamed there was a fire and that he was fighting his way through smoke and flames. He awoke to find the bed burning. He sprang to safety and gave the alarm, but before firemen arrived the house was almost gutted.

In Constant Battle for Freedom

MONTENEGRIN VILLAGE

MONTENEGRO is one of the smallest members of the family of nations, and freedom has made her sturdiest stands among its dreamy crags and unproductive rock-strewn, gravel slopes. Now, true to traditions of centuries of incessant warring, she has joined in the world war, with eagerness to expand in the tobacco and grazing lands of Herzegovina. A picture of the strongly individual characteristics of this nation, nurtured and contained upon a mountain, whose entrance into the war scales caused hardly a tremor of the balance, has been prepared for the National Geographic society by George Higgins Moses, United States minister to Greece and Montenegro during 1909-1912. Surveying the history of the miniature country, against which powerful Islamic waves broke in vain for centuries, the writer says:

"For 500 years they have maintained freedom, which of old has sat upon the heights; and, with sufferings indescribable, with courage illimitable, won from the great English apostle of Balkan freedom those words of undying praise, in which he gave it as his 'deliberate opinion' that 'the traditions of Montenegro exceed in glory those of Marathon and Thermopylae and all the war traditions of the world.'" Everywhere within the little kingdom, the writer says, one can see memorials of the grim, unbroken struggle of Montenegro's people against the power of the Turk, a struggle in which the Turk, master through the Balkans, battered against the mountain heights to no avail.

Montenegro has little to invite except the majesty of the vista from its higher crests, and the little band of Slavs who fled hither had freedom more than luxury and ease in mind. At the creation, so runs a Montenegrin legend given by Mr. Moses, an angel was sent forth to gather the superfluous stones on the earth's surface. He placed these stones in a bag which burst as he was flying over Cernagora, and Montenegro's richest dower is still the rocks which the angel spilled upon it.

Webbed With Fine Roads.

The approach to the kingdom, a winding way up hill, is spoken of by the writer as a splendid piece of engineering, which weaves up the gaunt, gray cliffs, finally threading a narrow, easily-defended defile and crossing a pass mostly swathed in clouds. Montenegro, Mr. Moses continues, is webbed with fine roads, the expression of the present king's restless spirit for improvement. The capital itself, Cetinje, is hardly more than a knot of cross-streets in two roads of this system. There are no pretentious buildings in the city, only two being of more than two stories in height, the Russian and Austrian legations. The external life of the capital is simple in the extreme.

Montenegrins, declares the writer, are mostly of greater than average stature, and the men have come to feel their principal calling to be that of war. The women of Montenegro are its economic producers, and, to quote King Nicholas, who has married his delightful daughters to some of Europe's leading houses, the women are the land's most important export. The men, Mr. Jones says, are good workers when put to it, and whenever a Montenegrin applying for a job is asked what he can do, he invariably answers, "Superintend."

There is little commerce and almost no manufactures in the kingdom, whose lands are barely rich enough to support the needs of the people in the most simple manner. Good tobacco is raised in the country, and a few coarse stuffs are woven in Podgoritzta. Nearly everything in use, however, is imported, and duties and prices are very high.

King Nicholas, a democratic monarch, more a patriarch than a king, is an astute politician and a capable administrator. Throughout his long reign of more than fifty years, he has accomplished much in the development of his land. He has increased his territory many times; adding two Adriatic ports to his possessions, and thoroughly organizing all departments of his government.

Smallest of Capitals.

Cetinje, the capital of Montenegro, is the smallest of the war capitals. It is the smallest capital city in the world; and, moreover, it is the most snugly placed of war-zone cities, for it is practically only assailable by the airship and aeroplane. In order to get into this city, an army would have to ascend a narrow mountain road beyond the clouds, and after it got there would find nothing in particular to do other than to go sightseeing. There is nothing around Cetinje to hold on to. There are plenty of stones, fresh air and bleak fields. From the latter fruits are won only by undismayed pampering and cajolery.

Cetinje consists of a main street and a cross street. On the cross street is the king's palace. This is a fair-sized, whitewashed Italian villa, with an audience room about fifteen feet square and a red tiled roof. The main street is well kept and it is enclosed by two regular lines of whitewashed, stone houses, of one and two stories, many of which have stores on the ground floor. There is a factory for arms and ammunition in the village, and a higher school for girls which was founded more than twenty years ago by the empress of Russia.

(TYPE OF MONTENEGRIN WOMAN)

Ivan the Black, forced about the end of the fourteenth century, to abandon Jabllak, the former capital to the north of Lake Scutari, founded Cetinje. The Turks have taken the town several times, the Montenegrins retreating to the surrounding heights of barren limestone, from whence they have kept up their struggle until the Turks sickened of their dreary, bootless conquests. Cetinje is difficult to menace; little there is to harm, and small reason there can be to undertake its capture.

No Collusion for Him.

An English laborer was being tried with a supposed accomplice for poaching, which he stoutly denied. The magistrate retorted that the evidence went to show that at least, he was in collusion with the other prisoner. The laborer here interrupted, and said he "warn't in Collusion; it war in X—that he met the other man." The court explained the meaning of the word "collusion," but it did not deter the other from proceeding with his defense. "There war no collusion 'tween us, as that feller always wanted the whole profits, and I never collude with that sort o' man if I knows it; and when there's no chance to git nothin' I never colludes. Not me!"

Magnesia in Fishes.

Chemical analyses of starfishes, sea urchins and crinoids, collected from all parts of the world, show that the skeletons of these animals contain much magnesia. The percentage of magnesia is highest in those specimens that lived in tropical waters and lowest in forms from the icy seas of Greenland and the Antarctic, with a regular gradation between which even shows the local effect of cold ocean currents upon life at the sea bottom.

THINGS WORTH TRYING

ALL GOOD AND JUST A LITTLE "DIFFERENT."

Effective Touches That Will Not Add to the Cost of the Dishes but Will Add Materially to Their Flavor.

Oh, you housekeepers who hanker after something a little different that will not add to the "cost of living," have you ever tried:

Tiny red peppers to garnish your salad plates and give the touch of desired color, when tomatoes are not to be had, or are prohibitive in price?

A center of yellow cheese for the tomato salad that is arranged to represent a poinsettia?

Halves of canned pears, piled up with white grapes and nuts for a salad in the pale yellow tones?

Or asparagus tips on white lettuce leaves if to get that special coloring you prefer not to use fruit?

Rings of green peppers on greenish lettuce, with a garnishing of French peas when an all-green salad is desired?

Roquefort cheese, grated, or chopped onion in your French dressing?

Cheese balls molded from a paste made of cream, chopped nuts and parsley, and seasoned with salt, pepper, a dash of paprika and Worcestershire sauce?

Or this same paste used as a filling for sandwiches? Thin bread and butter sandwiches of brown bread to be served with your salad in place of the more orthodox wafers?

A sprinkling of paprika on top of the regulation stuffed potatoes?

Small white heads of cabbage, boiled and adorned with a cream dressing, instead of the more aristocratic and costly cauliflower?

Cabbage or turnips au gratin in place of potatoes cooked in the same fashion?

A sauerkraut stuffing for goose or duck if you have any hankering after "Dutch" dishes?

A boiled dressing made with cream instead of oil and seasoned with a double quantity of mustard with your Dutch suppers?

Tripe with a very highly seasoned cream gravy, or chicken livers broiled with bacon, when you are at your wit's end for something new and not too expensive in the way of meats?

Ripe bananas peeled, laid in earthen dish, water to cover, sprinkled with brown sugar and a few drops of lemon juice and baked slowly for about half an hour? If a few chopped nuts or dot of apple jelly are added to each portion the effect is prettier.

Use Mild Soap.

No strong washing powders or kitchen soaps should be used on linoleum, as they slowly fade the pattern, destroy the dressing, and so make the linoleum look old and grimy, says a Country Gentleman writer.

Clear water may be used and mild soaps which are really mild enough to be used as toilet soaps.

Wiping up the linoleum with milk has more disadvantages than advantages. The sugar and the fat in the milk seem to glaze the linoleum, but the stickiness of it will in time make the linoleum hold more dirt and in the end give a grimy appearance.

A thin coating of the best varnish twice a year will do much toward keeping the linoleum bright and shiny and preventing wear.

New Luncheon Dish.

Poach an egg carefully in boiling water to which a squeeze of lemon juice has been added, trim it neatly with a round cutter, mask it with some thick, nicely flavored white sauce which is still warm, and put it aside to get cold. Dust the egg lightly with flour, brush it over with beaten egg cover thickly with dried bread crumbs seasoned with salt and pepper, and fry it quickly (one and a half minutes should be sufficient) in a bath of boiling fat. Serve the egg on a round of buttered toast and garnish the plate with watercress.

Veal Croquettes.

Put two cupfuls of finely chopped veal in a saucepan, add two tablespoonfuls of fine bread crumbs, one teaspoonful of butter, the beaten yolks of two eggs, one teaspoonful of onion juice, quarter teaspoonful of salt, one saltspoonful paprika and a speck of mace. Stir the mixture over the fire until thoroughly heated, then set aside to cool. Shape into croquettes, dip in beaten egg, roll in fine crumbs, let stand one or more hours, and fry until well browned. Serve with tomato sauce.

Renewing the Tablecloth.

It is suggested that when a tablecloth wears thin around the edge of the table, as it frequently does before showing signs of wear elsewhere, it is a simple matter to cut out the worn strip and to insert in its place a strip of heavy but not necessarily expensive lace.

Lacing the Fowl.

Instead of sewing up turkey, duck, etc., after stuffing, run some toothpicks across the opening and lace up with string. When the fowl is done, first pull the toothpicks out and the string falls off.

For Grease Stained Floors.

You will be delighted to see how quickly grease spots will disappear from floors when you apply a little koolool.

Successful Hats, New and Beautiful

Far removed from simplicity and rejoicing in picturesque lines and materials are the fashion tendencies that predominate in millinery. Flowers and fruits, ostrich plumes and ribbons in every variety, are assembled and shown on hats large and small. The new millinery modes are charming and in variety they are fairly bewildering. But however much we are distracted by the great number of styles, of one thing we cannot fail to be assured. There is little room or place in them for plain, meagerly trimmed hats.

The most noticeable thing in the displays for spring is, in fact, the number of models which appear to have come from designers who dare to be independent of each other. But they all seem to be fairly reveling in the wealth of materials at hand, and are making prodigal use of them.

Three beautiful hats are shown here that illustrate very clearly the vogue of picturesque millinery. At the center is a large hat of black horsehair braided. The supporting wires in the brim and crown are outlined with narrow velvet folds. A narrow velvet-covered bandeau rests on the hair with a small bow of black velvet ribbon nestling against it at the side. Little bouquets of pink roses and deep blue forget-me-nots are set about the crown. A hat of sand-colored hemp braid and satin is shown at the left, with bow and hanging ends of velvet ribbon at the back and a wreath of bright flowers and foliage about the crown. This is one of those shapes inspired by the poke bonnet.

The third hat has a braid brim and a soft crown of crepe georgette in a pale green. The side crown is covered with a rich wreath made of grapes in green and soft red, with a silk rose, in the natural rose color, set in its foliage near the front. There is a pretty ribbon bow of the color of the darker grapes which is posed on the crown and brim at the left back.

JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

Forecasting Fashionable Separate Coats

Now that Fashion allows us to choose between the coat suit and the frock with separate coat, the separate coat is a matter that must be seriously considered. Hardly any wardrobe but must possess two separate coats of some kind. One of them will take the place of the suit coat, while the other, according to the needs of its owner, will be chosen for dress occasions for which the suit coat is not quite elaborate enough, or for hard wear where the suit coat does not fit in.

Among the smartest models in the separate coat are those of light-colored covert cloth with flaring skirts, trimmed with machine stitching and buttons covered with the cloth. These are worn with pretty frocks of broadcloth and soft blouses with convertible collars. A little furbering up with flower-trimmed millinery and corsage bouquet brings a toilette, including the covert coat, up to the grade of a visiting or matinee toilette. To the busy woman who must start out in a day of varied demands with no time for changing gowns the separate coat is nothing short of an inspiration.

The coat of bronze moire pictured here will not answer all the purposes of the cloth coat, but it will be found immensely useful. With nice attention to other details of the toilette it may be used for the dressiest wear. As pictured with a walking skirt and tailored hat it adapts itself to the promenade perfectly.

Some of the separate coats are belted, others begin to flare from the level of the shoulders, and still others widen from the neck down. Nearly all of them are moderately long, and those in the quieter colors are often brilliantly lined.

JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

YOUR APPETITE

Your digestion, your general health will all be greatly benefited by the timely use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is compounded from absolutely pure ingredients and those best known as real aids to the Stomach, Liver and Bowels. It exerts a general tonic effect and helps Nature promote health and strength in the entire digestive system. Try a bottle today but be sure you get

HOSTETTER'S Stomach Bitters

MONEY IN THIS

With small amount of capital you can secure exclusive agency for the best line of hosiery, underwear, and sweaters made. Full line for the whole family. For particulars address P. S. Brunk, Berkeley National Bank Bldg., Berkeley, Cal.

New Woman is a Marrying Woman.

The alarmist assertions that the spread of "feminist" doctrine is going to destroy the home are disproved by statistics. More women marry today than did in 1900. There has been a gain of nearly 2 per cent in the number of marriages of women over fifteen in the last 20 years.

Among the 30,000,000 married women whom the last census takers report, only 185,065 had been divorced. Ida Tarbell calls this a "small per cent of disaster" and says that there is no other human relation that can show anything like so large a statistical proof of success.

YOUR OWN DRUGGIST WILL TELL YOU Try Murine Eye Remedy for Red, Weak, Watery Eyes and Granulated Eyelids; No Smarting—Just Eye Comfort. Write for Book of the Eye by mail free. Murine Eye Remedy Co., Chicago

Do Your Best.

Play the game! We are not here to whine and complain, to stay down because we are knocked down, to blame the inequalities of the ground or the unfairness of the umpire. Where there are no difficulties there can be no victories. We are here to win if we can in every condition that confronts us, to do our best in any case, and to do it to the end.

WOMAN COULD NOT SIT UP

Now Does Her Own Work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

Ironton, Ohio.—"I am enjoying better health now than I have for twelve years. When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I could not sit up. I had female troubles and was very nervous. I used the remedies a year and I can do my work and for the last eight months I have worked for other women, too. I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for I know I never would have been as well if I had not taken it and I recommend it to suffering women."

Daughter Helped Also.

"I gave it to my daughter when she was thirteen years old. She was in school and was a nervous wreck, and could not sleep nights. Now she looks so healthy that even the doctor speaks of it. You can publish this letter if you like."—Mrs. RENA BOWMAN, 161 S. 10th Street, Ironton, Ohio.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out and drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Put Your Boy Into Two-Horse Brand Overalls

Best-looking, longest-wearing and cost no more than inferior kinds. Banded bib and swinging white drill pockets (not the old style patch pockets that so quickly wear through).

Look for this label—take no others

A new FREE if they pair rip. Made and Guaranteed by LEVI STRAUSS & CO., SAN FRANCISCO

THE DARDANELLES

A VILLAGE ON THE DARDANELLES

THE Dardanelles, known in classic times as the Hellespont, is the golden key to the door of Asia. The strait, which connects the Sea of Marmora with the Aegean sea, is approximately forty-five miles long and varies in width from four miles to a mile and a quarter at Dardanelles, its narrowest point. It was just at this part of the strait that, according to the ancient verses ascribed to Musaeus, the servant of the muses, a legendary poet supposed to have lived about the fifth century, the enamored Leander, residing in Abydos, the Asiatic town, wooed and won the beautiful Hero, one of the priestesses of Venus, at Sestos, exactly opposite on the European side.

Gallipoli, the ancient seaport, a vi-layet of Edirneh, Turkey, on the peninsula of Gallipoli, is, next to the city of Dardanelles, the most important town on the strait. It was known in classical times as Callipolis, and in the middle ages, it is said, was a large commercial center and valued highly as constituting the "Key to the Hellespont."

The town of Dardanelles is situated on a flat plain opposite the European fort of Tchanak Kalesi, which guards the entrance to the strait from the Aegean sea. Two famous forts known as castles defend the Dardanelles, the one in Asia, Tchanak Kalesi, or Earth-entwared Castle of Asia, on the site of the ancient city of Abydos, and its mate opposite known as Khilidi Bahar, "the lock of the sea," which is built on the sides of a steep projecting cliff. Its castle, however, is of less importance than its neighbor.

The Turks have a romantic story of their own regarding Abydos, now known as Dardanelles. It seems that a firm resistance was offered to the Ottomans who besieged it under the command of Orchan, the son of Sultan Othman. The city at last was forced to yield, owing to the treachery of the governor's daughter, who had fallen in love with a handsome young Turk. Her treachery alone occasioned the fall of the town, which to this day has remained one of the most prized strongholds of the Turks.

In the town the sight of a foreigner and the sound of the English tongue is a matter of much comment, even in the best of times. Just after the so-called bombardment of the Dardanelles reported to have taken place by an Italian warship during the war over Tripoli, the writer had the unique experience of being one of the eleven foolhardy passengers on the first Austrian Lloyd steamer from the port of Piraeus, Greece, willing to take the risk of attempting to pass through the Dardanelles.

A Hazardous Journey. At the Aegean end of the strait, after a long wait and much uncertainty as to whether the steamer would be permitted to make the hazardous journey through the Dardanelles, known to be thickly sown with mines, a little grimy Turkish tug took the long line of shipping in tow, which had for some time been awaiting a convoy to proceed on its journey to Constantinople, or the ports on the Black sea, a journey interrupted by the false reports of an Italian bombardment, which very fortunately, as it happened, had not actually taken place.

The passengers were filled with trepidation and fear as they anxiously watched the little snorting tug laboriously twist and turn in an amazingly intricate and tortuous course, first close to shore, and then by a sharp turn, making apparently for the opposite side of the famous channel. It was a wonderful sight to see the little craft ahead, each of the others following as closely as they could the stern of the preceding vessel, imitating most faithfully the antics of the small Turkish convoy, lest it be blown up by missing but one of the labyrinthian twists and turns, and to look back and see the five ships behind, as diligently playing the same game of follow the leader, while on each side of the narrow waterway an almost continuous line of fortifications, hidden breastworks, bristling batteries and until near at hand, cleverly concealed armaments, proved how thorough were the preparations for war.

On arriving at the little wooden dock at the port of Dardanelles in one of the huge Turkish flatboats which come out from the shore to take off passengers and freight from the steamer, the tourist's passport is demanded, even before he is permitted to alight on the dock, if being dragged up bodily by two villainous looking bandits who stand on the dock, seconded by two equally ferocious appearing gentlemen in the swaying and bobbing boat some six or seven feet below, who expedite matters by none too gentle pokes and shoves, may be designated by any such mild appellation.

Meet Scowling Looks.

Once upon the dock the tourist is conscious that it is a long, long way to the steamer, which lies some distance out from the shore, as the confused babble of tongues greets the ear and the scowling looks cast upon the visitor make him well aware that he has left civilization and safety behind him in his characteristic American desire to "take in the whole show," as it is usually described.

It is almost with a sense of relief that an individual is seen approaching. He bows obsequiously and glibly announces: "I spik Eengleesh; I guide."

At once his services are gladly secured, but unfortunately it is soon evident his knowledge of the English language is limited to the few phrases with which he introduced himself, and his French, the traveler finds, is as execrable as his own.

However, when one is in Turkey, and in Asiatic Turkey at that, it is the part of wisdom to take things as they come without making any unnecessary commotion. The glances cast upon the "giours" are usually far from friendly or reassuring, and the visitor to Dardanelles becomes soon convinced of the foolishness of his action in insisting upon going ashore in the face of the just warning from the captain and officers of the steamer, who frankly advised him to remain on board, as it was pleasanter and safer to view Dardanelles from the deck of the steamer.

But once ashore it is impossible to leave for even if the voyager is able to request to be taken back to the steamer it would not be wise to do so. Consequently the best thing to do is to appear to enjoy the sights of Dardanelles immensely, and show as great appreciation as possible for the marvelously hideous earthenware manufactured in Tchanak Kalesi and sold in the dark, little Turkish shops of the town. As every visitor to Turkey well knows, the sultan's subjects manufacture almost nothing, for which no regret is felt when the awful specimens made at Dardanelles are seen.

Like a Greek Town.

The better part of Dardanelles has much the appearance of a small Greek town. The hotels, shops and open-air cafes all have signs printed in Greek, and the principal street is known as "The Street of the Greek Church." Ox teams are often encountered, lumbering slowly along, and there are numerous mangy curs of the same fierce mongrel type which formerly infested Constantinople. They are half starved and snap menacingly at strangers, so a promenade in Dardanelles is rather too exciting for comfort. The streets are filled with children, some of whom look like miniature men and women, tiny puppets in baggy green silk trousers or in full-fledged, gorgeously colored silk dresses, the sons and daughters of the well-to-do Turkish officials, but the far greater number are forlorn little creatures, ragged and dirty, who look not only neglected but half famished.

A warning blast from the steamer tells the voyager it is time to return. A hasty return is made to the dock, but the official with the traveler's precious passport is nowhere to be seen. At last, after what seems an endless delay, the gentleman is found, and when, after a diligent search through innumerable papers, he finally discovers the missing document the smiling gentleman is gladly given a generous gratuity for all his trouble by the anxious traveler, who gives one long sigh of relief when once more safely aboard the steamer.

Scotch Bill of Fare.

Several readers write to say that surely the English holidaymakers in Scotland who protest against the Scottish bills of fare at the boarding houses and hotels are unreasonable. "If one goes to Paris," writes one correspondent, "one rather enjoys eating the food of the place and accepting its feeding, hours and methods. It is a welcome change to have only coffee and rolls at the hour when Brixton and Balham are gorging themselves with thawed eggs from Siberia and bacon that is all gristle; and l'heure verte is a great idea, also a big improvement on the brandy-and-soda interlude in the city before one catches the train that takes one toward home and dinner."—London Chronicle.

What She Looked Like.

"Did you see that hussy who sued our son for breach of promise?" "I did." "What did she look like?" "She looked to me like a son-kist lemon."—Judge.

ARE LED BY GHOST

Russians See Skobelev at Their Head.

Belief Said to Be in the Ranks That Great Commander Directs the Movements of the Armies of the Czar.

Some Russian soldiers have declared they saw the figure of Skobelev on his white horse, leading their forces, as of old, into battle. To those who know the profound impression that wonderful man made on the Slavonic mind, there is no improbability in such a suggestion. Drawn so largely from a primitive peasantry, the vast host marshaled by the czar must contain multitudes whose childlike imaginations are quite capable of conjuring up their legendary hero in visible form once more, warding off defeat and pointing to victory. Even with the less simple there may well be a longing to have so famous a fighter at their head in that great struggle he predicted would happen, and in which he would so dearly have loved to play his part.

It was while the Russo-Turkish war in 1877 was raging that, from the midst of official incompetence and corrupt favoritism, Skobelev emerged as the magician to whose wand victory was ever obedient. Entirely by his own merits, without the advantage of illustrious birth, and against the opposition of a prejudiced court, he had won his general's epaulet before he was 33. After the fall of Plevna, his rapid passage of the Balkans in mid-winter brought about the surrender of Turkey's last army in the field and this was speedily followed by the capture of Adrianople. He was already at the gates of Constantinople when Lord Beaconsfield intervened to prevent its occupation, and in the Berlin treaty that ensued Skobelev ever professed to see the seeds of the harvest we are gathering today.

As a soldier he created among his men an enthusiasm for his leadership comparable only to that won by Napoleon himself. A strict disciplinarian, visiting any breach of command with merciless severity, he was the friend and companion of every rank, a comrade who shared their privations, fed from their camp pots and merrily chaffed one and all.

He did not know the sensation of fear, and faced the utmost dangers with cool contempt. Yet always he bore a charmed life. Horses were killed beneath him, his staff fell shot at his side, his sword was broken in his hand, but no missile ever found in him its billet. The story grew in the army that he could not be wounded, and some were found to declare they were hit by bullets that could only have passed through him first. It was facts and fables like these, losing nothing in the telling, that made him the darling of the Russian people.

BATHTUB FOR THE PIGS

Receptacle In Which Their Hogships May Revel to Limit of Their Hearts' Content.

A cement bathtub for pigs! That's the very latest thing in progressive stock raising. The piggywiggys can roll in all the mud they want to, and they want to roll in a lot of mud, you may be sure, but before retiring for the night they will have to take a bath.

At the recent national convention of cement manufacturers in Chicago the new cement hog wallow, saucer-shaped and ornamented in Grecian style—a true hog wallow de luxe—was the object of much attention. It seemed as perfect in its appointments—such as they were—as the bath of an exclusive club.

Landlord Bars Childless.

Supercilious landlords may refuse to rent houses to families with children, but not Frank McDonnell of Detroit. In fact, Landlord McDonnell will not rent his houses to childless parents.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Allen, who have just celebrated their first wedding anniversary, found an ideal cottage on Bagg street, belonging to Mr. McDonnell. Everything seemed satisfactory to both parties until the owner learned that the Allens had no children. "You cannot have the place," the landlord said. "I learned long ago that young couples without children move often. They never stay long in one place. It doesn't pay to rent to them. Only couples with children can live in my houses. Sorry, but that's my rule."—Detroit Dispatch to Los Angeles Times.

The Way It Came.

"How did the authorities get wind of that illicit distillery?" "I guess it was through a still alarm."

! PIMPLES BOILS CARBUNCLES ! ! ACHES CHILLS PAINS !

Are "Danger Signals"—the human system's method of giving warning that the blood has become impoverished and circulation poor. In this condition the human body is almost powerless to resist the more serious illness. Don't delay. You need

DR. PIERCE'S Golden Medical Discovery

It gets to work immediately at the seat of your trouble—the Stomach. It lends a helping hand. Helps to digest the food. Tones up the stomach. Soon brings back normal conditions. Food is properly assimilated and turned into rich, red blood. Every organ is strengthened and every tissue re-vitalized.

Made from roots taken from our great American forests. Try this remedy now. Sold by Medicine Dealers in liquid or tablet form—or send 50c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial box.

You can have the complete "Medical Adviser" of 1008 pages—cloth bound—free—by sending Dr. Pierce 31c for wrapping and mailing.

USE NIAGARA FALLS

Power to Be Utilized Without Affecting Beauty.

Engineers Have Worked Out Scheme Which It Is Believed Will Give Results Without Necessity of Destroying the Falls.

Niagara falls is to be put to work without affecting the scenic beauty of one of the world's wonders, a plan having been worked out to save and utilize from 75 to 80 per cent of the power now going to waste without outraging the artistic sensibilities of nature lovers. Two of the most important features of the fall, in a scenic way, are the deflection of light through the water as it curves over the crest, and the rising spray from the impact of the water at the base of the cliff, and both of these features are to be preserved. This is to be accomplished by an ingenious arrangement of penstocks by which a portion of the water is caught as it falls from the crest, is led through the turbines, and is then discharged into the falling sheet of water at the foot of the cliff, care being taken not to divert enough of the water through the penstocks to impair the beauty of the falling sheet.

The plan involves the building of a permanent concrete crest for the falls, to prevent future erosion, as well as the construction of a tunnel across the river back of the face of the cliff. To divert the water from successive sections so that this work can be done, dams are to be made by building cribs in the river above the falls, and then floating them down to a point near the crest and sinking them. After the work is completed, these dams are to be removed by blasting, or by unloading the cribs and floating them to a new site.—From Popular Mechanics.

The Water Is Caught by the Penstocks Below the Crest of the Falls, Led Through the Turbines, and Then Discharged at the Foot of the Cliff.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets, small, sugar-coated, easy to take as candy, regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels and cure constipation.—Adv.

That Also to Be Thought Of.

She was leaving the city for home, and by way of making her departure pleasant for those who had served her gave a nickel to a chambermaid, saying, "Mary, you take a nice long car-ride." The maid replied: "Yes, ma'am; thank you, ma'am, but how will I get back?"

Reason for Drier in Paint. The linseed oil in paint naturally resists the drying effect of the atmosphere, and because of this it is necessary to add something to the paint mixture to overcome the resistance. Drier is prepared for this purpose, its function being to absorb oxygen rapidly and convert the film into a hard, insoluble product. During this process the linseed oil is changed into linoxyn, and the drier continues its oxidation until the paint film is eventually destroyed.

Drier is made by adding salts to a certain amount of linseed oil which is heated up to about 500 degrees F. The temperature is allowed to drop and turpentine or a mixture of turpentine and benzine added.

HOW TO STOP DANDRUFF AND LOSS OF HAIR

Here is a simple, inexpensive treatment that will almost always stop dandruff and scalp itching, and keep the hair thick, live and lustrous: At night, spread the hair apart and rub a little resinol ointment into the scalp gently, with the tip of the finger. Repeat this until the whole scalp has been treated. Next morning shampoo thoroughly with resinol soap and hot water. Work the creamy-resinol lather well into the scalp. Rinse with gradually cooler water, the last water being cold. Resinol ointment and resinol soap are sold by all druggists.—Adv.

Prayed He Might Fight Again.

Here is an extract from a letter from abroad—never mind the nationality: "Louis is still here on sick leave. He was awfully battered up and is so nervous he can't hold his hands quiet for a moment. It was the concussion of a bursting shell that flung him against a stone wall, you know. He was in the hospital a month. He is getting a little better now, and every morning and evening I hear him praying. 'What in the world are you praying for?' I asked him. He had hard work steadying his voice. 'I—I'm praying,' he stammered, 'that the war won't be over before I can get back.' What are you going to do with a spirit like that?'—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Shake Into Your Shoes Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder for the feet. It cures painful, swollen, smarting, sweating feet. Makes new shoes easy. Sold by all Druggists and Shoe Stores. Don't accept any substitute. Sample FREE. Address A. S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.—Adv.

Hough on the Congregation. An old Scotch minister who did not quite regard himself as the paragon of pulpit perfection, addressing his assistant, remarked that it was singular how he felt more fatigued after hearing him than in preaching himself. To this the assistant replied that he experienced a similar feeling when his reverend constituent was in the pulpit. "Then," rejoined the minister, "I peety the folk that have to hear us baith!"

BLACK LEG LOSSES SURELY PREVENTED by Cutter's Bleeding Pills. Low price. Free, reliable; preferred by Western stockmen because they get fast where other vaccines fail. Write for booklet and testimonials. 10-dose package, Bleeding Pills $1.00. 50-dose package, Bleeding Pills $4.00. Use any injector, but get the best. The superiority of Cutter products is due to over 13 years of specializing in vaccines and serums only. Insist on Cutter's. If unsatisfactory, order direct. THE CUTTER LABORATORY, Berkeley, California.

KOVERALLS
ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

Keep Kids Kleen

The most practical, beautiful, playtime garments ever invented for children 1 to 4 years of age. Made in one piece with drop back. Easily slipped on or off. Easily washed. No tight elastic bands to stop circulation. Made in blue denim, and blue and white hickory stripes for all the year round. Also lighter weight material for summer wear. All garments trimmed with fast red or blue galatea. Made in Dutch neck with elbow sleeves and high neck and long sleeves.

75c the suit

If your dealer cannot supply you, we will send them, charges prepaid on receipt of price, 75c each.

A New FREE If They Suit
By Levi Strauss & Co., San Francisco

When Writing Advertisers Please Mention This Paper.

S. F. N. U. 18, 1915

SPOHN'S
DIPHTHERIA ANTITOXIN

SPHON'S DIPHTHERIA ANTITOXIN

Watch Your Colts

For Coughs, Colds and Distemper, and at the first symptoms of any such ailment, give small doses of that wonderful remedy, now the most used in existence

SPOHN'S DISTEMPER COMPOUND

50 cents and $1 a bottle; $5 and $10 the dozen, of any druggist, harness dealer, or delivered by SPOHN'S MEDICAL CO., Chemists and Bacteriologists, Goshen, Ind., U. S. A.

CAMPBELL INTERURBAN PRESS
Published every Friday by
HARRY C. SMITH

Entered as second-class matter September 30, 1904, at the Postoffice at Campbell, California, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.
Subscription, $1.00 per Year in Advance.
Locals, 5c per Line each insertion.
Display Adv., (2 or more inches) 50c an inch per month—1 inch 75c per month.
Notices of Entertainments where a charge is made, Cards of Thanks, Resolutions of Condolence, etc., 5c per line.

SOCIETIES.

Usonic Notice
Charity Lodge, No. 362, F. & A. M., Campbell, Cal. Stated meetings held on the second Monday of each month. I. W. Snow, W. M.
James Fablinger, Secretary.

Independent Order of Odd Fellows
Morning Light Lodge, No. 42, meets every Thursday evening in Odd Fellows Hall. Sojourning brothers are cordially invited to attend the lodge meetings.
Nelson A. Blake, Noble Grand.
O. D. Poston, Secretary.

Patrons of Husbandry
Orchard City Grange, No. 333, meets on the second and fourth Tuesday evenings at the Odd Fellows Hall. Sojourning members are cordially invited to attend.
E. K. Clendenning, Worthy Master.
Mrs. Edna Keesting, Worthy Secretary.

Federal Aid Union
Palm Leaf Council, No. 560, meets on the second and fourth Saturday evenings at Odd Fellows Hall. Sojourning members are cordially invited to attend.
MR. ROBERT SCHOLZ, President.
Mrs. S. J. Brandenburg, Secretary.

JOHN F. DUNCAN
Notary Public
Office: Bank of Campbell

DR. W. I. MERRILL
Physician and Surgeon
Office Formerly Occupied by Dr. Cooper
Office Hours
10 to 4 and 7 to 8
Holidays and Sundays
12 to 1
Office and Residence
Phone 31 J

L. D. BOHNETT
W. C. BOHNETT
Attorneys and Counselors
313-314 Bank of San Jose Building,
San Jose, 2239
Residence, 899 Delmas Ave., Phone, S. J. 5735
Notary Public
Office Campbell 45 L

DR. T. L. BLANCHARD
Physician and Surgeon
Office: B. O. CURRY BLDG.
Hours, 3:30-5 p. m.
Sundays and holidays 10-11 a. m.
Office Phone, Campbell 43 J

DR. J. C. WASSON
DENTIST
CURRY BUILDING CAMPBELL, CAL.
Office Hours 9:30 to 4
Evenings and Sundays by appointment
Home San Jose 1933 L
Office Campbell 45 L

Dr. Ernest A. Abbott
Dentist
Room 6 PORTER BUILDING
Phone San Jose 2447
San Jose, Cal.

Robert L. Blaine
News Agent for Daily San Francisco Papers
Delivered at Your Door

As One Fellow Sees It

The following is going the rounds of the Missouri press: Editors are all born boosters. The other day the editor was solicited to join a lodge and was handed a petition printed by a supply house. He got a dun from a merchant in a government stamped envelope and written on a garbling oil, statement; he made a purchase at a store and got a duplicate bill printed at Chicago and wrote a check on a blank printed at Denver. Ye Gods, how can an editor expect to join lodges and pay bills on such treatment as that, and all the time tell the people to trade at home? Editors have to be born boosters prepared to live on herring and stand for any thing.—Verden, Oklahoma, News.

Rainfall To Date

For month of October	48 inches
" " November	.67 "
" " December	4.97 "
" " January	4.92 "
" " February	10.59 "
" " March	2.10 "
Total to 8 A. M. today	25.73 "
Total to Apr. 29, last year	24.85 "

Public Fire Notice

On the first Monday night each month and for special meetings of the department, the fire bell will be tapped three times with an intermission, then three times more. Fires will be announced only by continuous ringing.
E. E. Lanphear, Chief.

Fancy box stationery just received at Smith's.

Care of the Wounded in Battle.
When the chief surgeon of an army is making arrangements for the collection of wounded during an impending battle he always bears in mind the fact that men will be wounded in different numbers at different ranges and, of course, he sees that the most efficient ambulance service is given where the losses are heaviest. To aid him in making arrangements, he knows roughly what the losses in these various "zones," as they are called, will work out at.

At a range of 1,000 yards he knows that about 20 per cent of the men engaged will be wounded, while between 1,000 and 400 yards as high a percentage as 60 are liable to be disabled. Only a comparatively small number of the soldiers who take part in the last "grand, glorious rush" are wounded, however, 10 per cent being the proportion, while somewhere about the same percentage of men are wounded during the pursuit of a retreating army.—London Tit-Bits.

A Short Lived Race.
The average duration of life is shorter in New Guinea than in any other country, possibly owing to the peculiar diet affected by the natives, who devour with gusto the larvae of beetles, dug out of decayed tree trunks, and habitually drink sea water when near the coast. "The people die off at about forty," we are told in Mr. A. E. Pratt's "Two Years Among the New Guinea Cannibals." "We saw one very old man, who may have been about sixty years of age—the only example of longevity that we came across. He was bent almost double and had a long, white beard. His fellow tribesmen regarded him as a great curiosity, and brought him to see us. Despite the decrepitude of his body, however, there was no trace of senility. His senses were unimpaired, and the poor old creature showed great gratitude for a gift of tobacco."

The Chimera.
The chimera was a fabulous monster with a lion's and a goat's head, a serpent's tail and a goat's middle, which inhabited the dreadful mountain of Lycia, in Greece, and defended itself against attack by vomiting flames of fire. It was at last conquered by Belerophon, the god of war, who mounted it on the famous horse Pegasus. The strange combination of the form of the chimera was evolved from the fact that the terrible Lycia was partly a burning mountain, with here and there a desolate wilderness, the resort of lions, and occasionally a few fertile spots where goats did congregate, while at the foot of the great hill was a swamp infested with snakes. From this curious creation of superstition sprang the origin of the word "chimera," in designation of an idle fancy or a foolish creation of the brain.

Naval Stores.
Answering the question, "What is the derivation of the term 'naval stores' (applied to rosin, turpentine, etc.) and why are they so called?" the New York Sun says:
"It seems odd that the change from the stately frigates of our navy to mere machinery proves so long established that the meaning of naval stores is persisting. When fleets maneuvered under canvas the prime stores of the navy were tar, pitch and turpentine, famous products of North Carolina, therefore in all propriety naval stores. The modern fighting ship has no rigging to be tarred down and needs no tar. Her decks are caulked with a pneumatic riveter and need no pitch, hot or cold, no matter what may be to nav. But the name outlasts the use."

Methodist Church Notes

The attendance at the mid-week service Wednesday evening was larger than usual this week.

A very fine Children's Day program is in course of preparation by the Sunday-school, and will be presented Sunday evening, May 23.

Miss Phoebe Farley has charge of the League meeting this week. The attendance last Sunday was good, considering the rainy weather. That banner is worth winning, not so much on its own account, but because we want to succeed doing the thing we have undertaken to do. Now is the time to show our staying qualities.

Reception of members and baptism of adults this Sunday morning. Some will be received by letter, others into preparatory membership. In the evening, another prison address will be given, "The Effect of Prison Life on the Inmates," being the theme.

The second Methodist Men's Muster will be held in the lecture room of the church next Tuesday evening. All the men of the congregation above high-school age are invited to be present whether members of the church or not. Those who were present at the last Muster will not need any urging to insure their presence at this one.

The monthly meeting of the official board will occur next Wednesday evening at the usual hour.

The committee in charge of the annual Sunday-school picnic will announce all the arrangements. The picnic will be held at Congress Springs, May 8th. We expect to get started shortly after eight o'clock in the morning, leaving the picnic grounds for the return trip not later than five o'clock. We will probably go by the electric car line; but, hear the announcement Sunday. Basket lunch and all eat together.

Kitchen Party

The kitchen and porches of the Hoag residence were the scene of a jolly afternoon and evening Saturday.

The afternoon was spent in making candy and preparing a delicious supper. Everyone had a hand in this fun.

A half hour of picking flowers was greatly enjoyed. The supper, which was served in the dining room was followed by dancing and music.

The young people left on the nine-forty car.

Those present were, Miss E. McFadden and Miss Twambly of the Normal faculty, Miss Vera Gilmore, president of the June graduating class, Misses Dorothy Edwards, Irene Schoner, Orpha Hoppery, Cora Caswell, Nell Blodgett, Adah Laiting, Ann Baxter, Ruth and Helen Hoag.

Christian Science Services

in Odd Fellows' Hall every Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock. Subject for May 2d, is "Everlasting Punishment." Sunday-School at 12:15. The public is cordially invited.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors who assisted so kindly during our recent bereavement.
A. Trevor
Lyle Trevor

Evading Responsibilities.

"I promised that girl never to smoke if she would marry me," said the discouraged looking man.
"What did she say?"
"She remarked that she did not care to be utilized as an excuse for any personal economies I might contemplate."
—Washington Star.

Local and Personal

The M. E. Aid Society will tie comforters on individual orders.—Adv.

Miss Emma Swope returned yesterday from her vacation at Capitola.

C. H. Whitman has installed a new filling station on Campbell avenue for the service of the public.

The Guild tied comforters all day yesterday for the new hospital instituted by Dr. A. A. Atkinson in Siskiyou county.

The "R. Bear cottage on Payne avenue was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. The furniture was saved by the help of the neighbors.

Ralston Alison has rented the house on north First street recently vacated by G. C. Middleton, which they will occupy while their new home is being built.

W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Whitman Wednesday, May 5. At this meeting a membership contest will be organized and all are cordially invited.

The Bibliophilis class of the Methodist church enjoyed a most pleasant evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Graves, Friday. A number of the party masqueraded, thereby adding to the fun of the hour.

The Rev. Geo. E. Atkinson has been invited to give the address at the annual outing of the Monday Club of San Francisco. They will hold their picnic in the Redwood grove at the foot of Mt. Tamalpais.

Miss Una Shepard of San Diego, and Miss Edna Kynock of Petaluma, who have been guests at the home of their uncle, S. G. Rodeck, for the past ten days, left today for the Jewel City. After doing the sights, they will return to their homes.

The second Campbell Grammar School team defeated the second Cambrian by a 6 to 9 score which demonstrates that both teams played good ball. Remember, folks, these are the future High School players and will develop into excellent material.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Duncan went to San Francisco yesterday in their Overland car, taking Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Carter of Palo Alto and Mr. F. M. Smith for a day at the Fair. Mr. Smith thinks this is about the finest country he has visited in his travels and almost wants to be adopted.

Mr. and Mrs. Bump of Jarvis, Ore., arrived Friday for a visit with a brother, L. C. Bump, and nephew, E. E. Weeks. They were rather disappointed to find a typical Oregon spring which this week has been. Mrs. Weeks accompanied them to the Big Trees yesterday for a view of the giants.

Mrs. Henry Young returned home Wednesday from an extended visit with her parents in Nova Scotia. She came via the northern route to San Francisco, where Mr. Young went to meet her. By some mishap he missed her and returned to find her here. Mr. Young is taking vacation from his mail route duties. Claude Townsend is substituting.

Miss Minnie Correia was given a surprise party Monday evening at her home by a number of her friends. A variety of games and music, with refreshments, made a very pleasant time. The younger guests included, the Misses Lena, Mary and Eva Spragia, Juanita Lewis, Frank and Nick Cistermino, Henry Oliver, Frank Ferrera, and Willie and Manuel Correia.

Methodist Church Notes

The attendance at the mid-week service Wednesday evening was larger than usual this week.

Kitchen Party

The kitchen and porches of the Hoag residence were the scene of a jolly afternoon and evening Saturday.

The afternoon was spent in making candy and preparing a delicious supper. Everyone had a hand in this fun.

A half hour of picking flowers was greatly enjoyed. The supper, which was served in the dining room was followed by dancing and music.

The young people left on the nine-forty car.

Those present were, Miss E. McFadden and Miss Twambly of the Normal faculty, Miss Vera Gilmore, president of the June graduating class, Misses Dorothy Edwards, Irene Schoner, Orpha Hoppery, Cora Caswell, Nell Blodgett, Adah Laiting, Ann Baxter, Ruth and Helen Hoag.

Christian Science Services

in Odd Fellows' Hall every Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock. Subject for May 2d, is "Everlasting Punishment." Sunday-School at 12:15. The public is cordially invited.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors who assisted so kindly during our recent bereavement.
A. Trevor
Lyle Trevor

Evading Responsibilities.

"I promised that girl never to smoke if she would marry me," said the discouraged looking man.
"What did she say?"
"She remarked that she did not care to be utilized as an excuse for any personal economies I might contemplate."
—Washington Star.

Grangers Musn't Dance In Colorado Granges

There will be no more dancing in Grange meetings in Colorado, if the edict is enforced which has recently gone out, says the National Grange Monthly. For at the last session of the State Grange the following amendment to the by-laws was adopted:

Section 1. Dancing at or in connection with any and all Grange meetings when the Grange is opened in form, or at any hall or other place of meeting of a Grange organization on the regular meeting occasion of such Grange, is strictly prohibited.

Section 2. The matter of the State Grange is authorized to enforce this article by removing the master of a Subordinate Grange or by suspending the charter of the offending Grange.

Official notice of this action has been sent to every Grange in the state by State Secretary Rudolph Johnson, accompanied by special attention being called to the provision that authorizes the state master to remove any offending subordinate master.

Festival at Sunnyvale

Those who heard Prof. Shippy recently, when he spoke at the Grammar School, will remember that he extended an invitation to Campbell to come to Sunnyvale, when they had an entertainment in the new school house. That opportunity will be given Saturday night when a carnival will be given under the auspices of the Civic League and school faculty beginning at 7 o'clock.

The affair will include vaudeville stunts in "Festival Hall," (the auditorium), booths, clowns, flower girls, etc., in the "Court of the Universe," and attractions of all kinds on the "Zone." Admission 5 and 10 cents, concessions extra. The proceeds are to pay for a graphophone for the school.

Any who can find it in their way to attend will have an opportunity to see the school, and its advantages as a civic center.

May-Day at Saratoga

The foothill town of Saratoga plans to entertain at a May-Day picnic to be held there on Saturday next, the first of May. The program will begin at 10 A. M. and will consist of May-pole dances, by the children of the Saratoga School, music by the band of the San Jose High School who will come out for the occasion, a Basket-Ball game between the two teams from San Jose, a Base-Ball game between two local teams, athletic events for all, both young and old, Basket lunch, for which coffee will be furnished free to all, and music by the Saratoga Orchestra led by their teacher, Miss Wann.

The Saratoga Blue-Rock club will hold the opening shoot of the season for which a number of the cracks from San Francisco will come down, also a number of the San Jose club membership will be in attendance. Everything free and everybody welcome.

District Association

Campbell church was well represented at the District Association of Congregational churches in San Jose this week Tuesday and Wednesday. Several besides the delegates were in attendance. The delegates were put at work. Dr. Cooper was made chairman of one of the most important committees of the association, and Mr. Geo. N. Stray was elected chairman of the Laymen's Work Committee for the coming year while the Pastor was re-elected Registrar for three years, and nominated to serve as Director of our State Conference.

The meetings were well attended, all the sessions were helpful and inspiring. Two addresses seem to be outstanding, the one by W. J. Speers, just returned from five years in Europe, who spoke on "The Church and the World Crisis." Mr. Speers spoke from a rather intimate knowledge of the situation and the time given seemed all too short. But the great outstanding address of the Association was by the Rev. Dr. R. C. Brooks of the University church, Berkeley, who gave a most helpful and illuminating address the closing night on "The Religious outlook of Today."

The Association meets next year for its Fiftieth meeting in Santa Cruz, and C. S. Osgood of Saratoga was elected Moderator.

Congregational Church

"The Friendly Church just around the Corner."

The theme for next Sunday, May 2 is "Assailed but Conquering." Talk to the boys and girls before the regular sermon.

Christian Endeavor and Sunday-Schools at the regular hours.

In the evening at our regular service will be another of our delightful stereoscopic evenings. This time visiting Footchow, China. Mr. Atkinson has just received a set of beautifully colored slides for this service. Come and enjoy them if you worship no where else.

W. G. E. ATKINSON, Pastor

A Real Neutral

President Wilson addressed the annual meeting of the Associated Presses last week expressing his views of our neutrality. The following extracts are given.

"We are the mediating nation of the world. I do not mean that we undertake not to mind our own business and to mediate where other people are quarreling. I mean the world in a broader sense. We are compounded of the nations of the world. We mediate their blood, we mediate their sentiments, their tastes, their passions; we are, ourselves, compounded of those things. We are, therefore, able to understand all nations; we are able to understand them in the compound, not separately, as partisans, but unitedly as knowing and comprehending and embodying them all. It is in that sense that I mean that America is a mediating nation. The opinion of America, the action of America, is ready to turn and free to turn in any direction.

"My interest in the neutrality of the United States is not the petty desire to keep out of trouble. I have never looked for it, but I have always found it. I do not want to walk around trouble, but I am interested in neutrality because there is a distinction waiting for this nation that no nation has ever got. That is the distinction of absolute self-control and self-mastery. Whom do you admire most among your friends. The irritable man? The man out of whom you can get a 'rise' without trying? The man who will fight at the drop of the hat, whether he knows what the hat is dropped for or not?"

"Now, I covet for America this splendid courage of reserve moral force, and I wanted to point out to you, gentlemen, simply this: There is no news. There is what is called news from Turtle bay, that turns out to be falsehood, at any rate in what it is said to signify, and which if you could get the nation to believe it true, might disturb our equilibrium and our self-possession. We ought not to deal in stuff of that kind. We ought not to permit things of that sort to use up the electrical energy of the wires because its energy is malign, its energy is of mischief. It is possible to sift truth.

"So that what I try to remind myself of every day, when I am almost overwhelmed by perplexities, what I try to remember, is what the people at home are thinking about. I try out myself in the place of the man who does not know all the things that I know, and ask myself what he would like the policy of this country to be. Not the talkative man, not the partisan man, not the man that remembers first that he is a Republican or Democrat, or that his parents were German or English, but who remembers first that the whole destiny of modern affairs centers largely upon his being an American first of all.

"If I permitted myself to be a partisan in this present struggle, I would be unworthy to represent you. If I permitted myself to forget the people who are not partisan, I would be unworthy to represent you. I am not saying that I am worthy to represent you, but I do claim this degree of worthiness—that before everything else I love America."

SACRAMENTO.—A qualification of five years practice of law is required of candidates for superior judgeships by the Chamberlain bill which was approved today in the assembly. The bill aims to keep off the bench any judge who lacks the knowledge of practicing attorneys. The measure goes to the senate.

Some Wool

The three transcontinental railroads were put under rush orders yesterday to transport under the quickest possible freight schedule to the East the entire ship cargo of the steamer Wairuna, which arrived in San Francisco from Australia laden with 14,700 bales of wool.

The wool will be taken to the mills at Boston and Philadelphia, which have been short for some time owing to embargoes declared by England, which feared the commodity might get into the hands of the German Government.

The wool has been shipped under the direction and control of the Textile Alliance of New York, an association of manufacturers pledged to see that the wool is used in neutral factories.

This is the first time in years that a ship has come here bringing such a large shipment of wool.

The wool was loaded on freight trains of the Southern Pacific, Santa Fe and Western Pacific and immediately started on its way.

San Jose Supports Bill

San Jose, April 22.—At a meeting of the San Jose chamber of commerce this week Secretary J. T. Brooks was instructed to wire Senator Frank H. Benson at Sacramento to make arrangements for hearing a local delegation in support of the bill introduced appropriating $150,000 for a lateral through the Pacheco pass, connecting the state highway running down the coast with the state highway running north and south in the San Joaquin valley.

For Sale: Belgian hare and Flemish Giant does for breeding purposes. Flemish Giant at stud. Prices reasonable. Pure bred Rhode Island Red Cockerles and eggs for hatching.
JOHN SPENCER.
Campbell R. 10, Sunnyside ave.

Henry B. Brown
Wood=Sawing

Let us saw your orchard wood for you. 21 Dillion Avenue. Campbell, Cal. Phone 14 L

The wagons of the California
Cleaning and Dyeing
Works

call regularly Tuesday and Friday of each week at the homes of Campbell for work. Prompt delivery.

FIRST CLASS CLEANING GUARANTEED
Leave orders at
The Campbell Bakery
R. Engel, Agent
Works at
387 W. Santa Clara St., San Jose

J. C. Lloyd
General Repairing
Horse shoeing $1.50 and $2.00

LEGAE

In the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Santa Clara

In the Matter of the Application of) Campbell Fruit Growers Union,)
a Corporation, for a change of its) ORDER
Name.

The application of Campbell Fruit Growers Union, a corporation, for a decree of this Court changing the name of the said corporation from "Campbell Fruit Growers Union" to "HYDE INVESTMENT COMPANY," signed by a majority of the Board of Directors of said corporation, having been filed in this Court, and the Court being satisfied that said application is in conformity with the provisions of Title IX, Part III, of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California,

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED That all persons interested in said matter appear before the said Court on Friday, the 7th day of May, 1915, in the Courtroom of the Department of said Court to which said matter may be assigned, in the Court House in the City of San Jose in the said County of Santa Clara, at 10 o'clock A. M., then and there to show cause, if any they have, why the said application for change of name should not be granted, and it is further ordered that a copy of this order be published in THE CAMPBELL INTER-URBAN PRESS, a newspaper of general circulation in said County of Santa Clara, for four successive weeks.

Dated this 2nd day of April, 1915.
J. R. WELCH,
Judge.

Notice to Creditors.

Estate of Elizabeth Jane Pannell, Deceased
Notice is hereby given by the undersigned administratrix of the estate of Elizabeth Jane Pannell, deceased, to the creditors of and all persons having claims against the said deceased, to exhibit the same, with the necessary vouchers, within four months after the first publication of this Notice, to the said administratrix at the office of W. C. Bohnett, Room 313 Bank of San Jose Building, in the City of San Jose, County of Santa Clara, State of California, where all business connected with said estate will be transacted.

San Jose, this 2nd day of April, A. D. 1915.
Emily Pannell Gard,
Administratrix of the Estate of Elizabeth Jane Pannell, Deceased,
W. C. Bohnett
Attorney for said Administratrix.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.
Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Fancy Box Stationery at Smith's.
Leave orders for engraved cards of stationery at the PRESS OFFICE.